BT on Payphone removals

BT has been undertaking extensive research to identify public payphones that are no longer viable to keep. There are currently 36 public payphones in your planning area which have been identified and proposed for removal by BT under the 90-day consultation process, although this number may be subject to minor change as the removal notices are physically posted. Please be aware we will begin posting removal notices in the affected payphones during the next two weeks and aim to complete the activity within 15 working days from the start date. Once the notice posting activity is completed, we'll send you a further letter listing all of the payphones involved and notifying you of the beginning of the formal consultation process.

They propose to remove payphones identified as unnecessary whilst retaining public payphones that are used, as well as those we have categorised as providing a social need. In this way we believe we can fulfil our regulatory obligations, improve the quality of the payphone estate overall and continue to meet the needs of your community. As a result we're not consulting to remove any public payphones where there is a social need for retention. These have been identified as being located:

- in suicide hotspots
- in accident black spots
- in an area without any mobile coverage
- within 400 metres of the coast

In addition to these payphones, we will not remove payphones where there's a reasonable need. For this assessment we have used the following criteria, retaining payphones for which all three apply:

- the only payphone within 800 metres
- had at least 12 calls of any type within a 12 month period
- the local population is not fewer than 500 households within 1 kilometre of the payphone

Through our Adopt a Kiosk scheme; communities will also have the opportunity to adopt any phone box for just £1. The traditional, red phone boxes are part of our heritage and by opening them up for adoption; your community can keep these iconic landmarks and put them to great use. Uses made of phone boxes already adopted include a grocery shop, a wildlife information centre and the Community Heartbeat Trust charity has even installed defibrillators in some boxes. You can find out more about our Adopt a Kiosk scheme in the enclosed brochure or you can download an electronic copy at: www.btredcare.com/adopt.pdf.

You can download an electronic copy that sets out the rationale and process the BT are following to help you better understand why they are looking to remove some payphones at:

www.btredcare.com/removals.pdf.

Ten Key Steps

Following on from our conference on the First Thousand Days earlier this year we are looking to consult on a document called 'Ten key steps' which outlines what services can do strategically to support infant and parent mental health in East Lothian.

A small but wide ranging group of East Lothian professionals have looked at good practise elsewhere in the UK, and developed the 'Ten Key steps' for services, planners and commissioners in East Lothian. We want your view on the key steps and have made a very simple survey monkey with three questions which can be completed in a few minutes at the following link

The Coalfields Dog Poo Challenge

The Big Problem

80% of the communities who have been involved in creating a community action plan as part of Coalfields Community Futures programme, highlighted dog fouling as an issue of concern in their local community.

The issue of dog fouling is one of the most common to be flagged up as needing something done about it. Dog fouling is universally unpopular and often raises people's anger with stories of how it negatively affects people's ability to enjoy being outdoors.

The Big Challenge

Coalfields Regeneration Trust are offering an incentive to communities to really focus on this issue and come up with creative ways of dealing with this problem that can be shared with other communities, helping create an effective deterrent to irresponsible dog owners everywhere!

The Organisations Who Can Apply

We are inviting applications from the Anchor Organisations that are leading on each of the Coalfields Community Action Plans

The Big Incentive

CRT have £6,000 funding to take forward 3 innovative projects that will help address the dog fouling issue in their community.

The Big Award Ceremony

The projects that apply will be assessed and those that are eligible will be voted on by participants at the next CRT Network Meeting in September after candidates have had an opportunity to give a short presentation on their project.

To check if your group can apply, and if you have a bright idea that you think could work, or for an application form please contact Enid Trevett.

enid.trevett@coalfields-regen.org.uk

01259 272127

The deadline for applications is August 17th 2016.

The Coalfields Regeneration Trust is a Charity registered in England and Wales (No. 1074830), a Charity registered in Scotland (No. SC038277) and a Company Limited by Guarantee registered in England and Wales (No.370686).
